Migrant students face many challenges like:

Adapting to new schools

Adapting to new teachers and classmates

Adapting to new rules and standards

Did you know the federal government sets $ aside to ensure migrant students obtain a good education?

Federal Money may be allocated in different school districts for programs relating to:

- FCAT Tutoring
- Homework Help
- Reading
- Parent Involvement
- Student Employment
- Credit Recovery
- Transportation
- Computer access
- Scholarships
- Medical Assistance
- Information and Referrals
- Transitioning
- Family Literacy
- Advisory Committee
- School Supplies
- School Readiness
- Additional Guidance

Although some school districts do not apply for federal money for migrant students, all schools are required to assist students in their academic needs to the best of their ability.

Find out about the availability of Migrant Education Programs at your child's school. If there are no MEP programs, ask how they can work with you to ensure that your child's needs are met!
